

Nicholas Galvez
Curriculum Vitae
nj.galvez@yahoo.co.uk
07484 750282
Camberley, Surrey, GU15 2HG

Personal Statement:

Self-motivated individual offering excellent skills in problem-solving. Experienced in delivering efficient, creative results and offering adaptability and strong communication skills to enhance team productivity in any professional setting.

Education:

University of Cambridge (2023 - Present):

- Reading Computer Science at Cambridge University
- Achieved a 2.i classification in part IA
- Developing a keen interest in graphical rendering and game development

Farnborough Sixth Form (2021 - 2023):

- Studied Computer Science, Maths, Further Maths, and Graphical Design
- Achieved A*, A*, A*, B respectively
- Started and co-ran a chess society which became the largest society with over 50 members

Tomlinscote School and Sixth Form (2016 - 2021):

- Achieved four grade 9s, four grade 8s, and two grade 7s

Work:

Private Tutor (May 2022 - Present)

Excels in fostering student engagement and understanding through clear explanations and personalised guidance, ensuring that each student reaches their full potential.

Tutoring Computer Science and Maths focusing mainly on GCSE content to students of all abilities.

Learnt to communicate and teach with diverse methods tailored to specific students, fostering patience in facilitating comprehension.

E Tutor You (Feb 2022 - Jan 2023):

Further experience in tutoring with a broader range of subjects.

Refined professionalism by developing capacity to collaborate seamlessly with colleagues and thrive within the structured framework of a company environment.

Achievements:

Successfully designed, developed, and launched a game application titled Cadence (2024) within a 3-month timeframe, independently executing all aspects of development, including programming, concept creation, and release.

Experienced programmer in but not limited to the following languages: Python, Java, C++, C#, SQL. Achieved 94% in programming coursework creating a mathematical game to help children learn.

Volunteered in a church cafe for six months helping older customers and maintaining a hygienic working environment.

Devoted member of a swimming academy for six years.

Attained Duke of Edinburgh's Bronze Award facilitating development in culinary arts.